Ref: Jerith Liberty & Jerith Legacy Gates

Innovation is one of our strategic goals and many of our biggest advancements come through product improvement projects. We are excited to introduce an improvement within our gate offerings for Liberty and Legacy. Beginning today these two product lines will share the same swing gates.

This development allows our customers the versatility to use the same gate on either Liberty or Legacy product lines, ultimately reducing the quantity of stock gates for our distribution partners. In addition, by changing how we manufacture these gates we were able to eliminate the picket to rail fasteners and “V” brace in exchange for a fully welded gate construction. The welded construction of our Liberty and Legacy gates yields greater durability all while making it lighter and easier to handle.

See Contractor Resources/Digital Catalog on our website for updated catalog sections with new part numbers and gate specifications.

As always, we appreciate your continued business and support of Jerith products.

Thank you.
